DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-14, 27-30, drawn to an alcohol molecule detecting system with specifics of the laser source, classified in class 250, subclass 338.5.
 - II. Claims 15-17, drawn to a computer system for remote control of a detector, classified in class 375, subclass 310.
 - III. Claims 18-19, drawn to a system containing a detector and a computer with specifics of the interface between them, classified in class 712, subclass 29.
 - IV. Claims 20-26, drawn to a computer software to give instruction to a laser source, classified in class 717, subclass 100.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I, II, III and IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the computer system of invention II does not require any of the specifics of the detector or the laser source as disclosed in invention I; because the system of invention III does not require any of the specifics of either invention I or II; because the computer software of invention IV does not require the specifics of the laser source as claimed in invention I.

The subcombination (laser source or detector) has separate utility besides being used in a computer remote system or computer software program since it can be used in any detection system that requires a laser source and a sensor.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, III or IV, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. A telephone call was made to David Carstens on 06/12/2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
